How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion.* Most help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

LAND OF PLENTY

This is the "emblem" of The Land of Plenty—the six great states served by the Norfolk and Western Railway—Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Maryland, Kentucky. It will keynote the Norfolk and Western's forthcoming national advertising campaign to sell American manufacturers on the superior industrial advantages offered by The Land of Plenty — where you live.

All over America, manufacturers are looking for good plant sites. They seek uncrowded tracts near markets, with dependable rail transportation to reach those markets . . . abundant and varied raw materials . . . home-rooted manpower . . . dependable electric power . . . plenty of industrial water . . . all-purpose Bituminous Coal . . . a modern ocean port . . . equable climate . . . cooperative state and local governments . . . room to grow . . . and fine communities where industrious people are content. The Land of Plenty has these advantages.

This month, the Norfolk and Western will launch an extensive advertising campaign to present to American manufacturers the convincing reasons why they will find their new plant sites in this territory. The N. & W.'s advertising, largely in full-color, will be published in national magazines and newspapers which go direct to top industrialists. The publications include: Fortune, Newsweek, Business Week, Forbes, United States News, Dun's Review, Manufacturer's Record, The Wall Street Journal and Chicago Journal of Commerce.

This bid for industrial development in and near the towns in which you live can mean better living for everyone. The Norfolk and Western Railway has faith in the future of The Land of Plenty and its people — confident that sound industrial development — more plants and industries — will mean more jobs, more dollars, greater productivity and better communities. The N. & W. is proud to tell the story of this fine territory.
